Relationships Australia – Northern Territory is a community based, not-for-profit organisation dedicated to helping all members of our community build stronger, healthier relationships.

Elder Abuse Prevention and Support Services are free if you are:

- Aged 65 years and over or 50 years and over if you are Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander
- If there are concerns of abuse, exploitation, mistreatment or neglect
- Informed consent from the older person to engage with the service

How can we help?

- Assist to reduce the risk and occurrence of abuse, exploitation or neglect
- Respond to family conflict in ways which aim to improve relationships
- Organise a safe and respectful family or group meeting
- Information, support and referrals
- Development of safety plan
- Counselling
- Connect with additional services

We can also offer support from our Aboriginal staff and/or external interpreter services.

This service is available in Alice Springs and Darwin.
